Tractor Crushes Worker On Power Bureau Line Here

MAN KILLED WHEN MACHINE TOPPLES OVER ON HILLSIDE

Alexander L. Seaman Is Second Victim in Work—Uplander Sees Tragedy

Death came to Alexander L. Seaman, employe of the Los Angeles Bureau of Power and Light, under a heavy tractor on a firebreak north of Twenty-fifth street, a half mile west of Mountain avenue, yesterday afternoon. The tractor, used in digging holes for the huge towers to carry the transmission lines, was being taken to the scene of the work after being repaired.

Seaman was driving the machine in zig-zag fashion going up the steep trail when one of the wheels of the heavy tractor struck a hard boulder and started to tip. Seaman, an experienced tractor driver and employed for 20 years as a tractor demonstrator, jumped from his seat. He didn't jump far enough. Just as he hit the ground the tractor toppled over on him. He died instantly.

Ted Phillips, residing on Twenty-fifth street, saw the accident, which occurred on the firebreak just above his place. The transmission line route is about a quarter of a mile north of the Phillips home.

After crushing Seaman on its first roll, the tractor plunged 50 feet farther down the hill.

The tractor had been used in digging many of the holes for the tower line from Hoover dam west. The machine is of the regular tractor type but has a hole digging device. It had been repaired and was being returned to the job when the fatal turnover occurred.

This death was the second for employes of the bureau in the construction work in this district. Several weeks ago, John B. Mayes of Los Angeles was killed near Etiwanda when a 1½ ton insulator fell on him.

Others besides Phillips reported as seeing the accident yesterday are L. J. Eppich of Upland; L. H. Nealy, Fontana, and Edward A. Cook, Cozy Dell, employes of the bureau, who were near the machine when it toppled over.

Seaman was a former employe of the Cletrac Manufacturing Co. and for 20 years he had served as a tractor demonstrator. It is reported he received only a few days ago an offer from the tractor company to demonstrate its equipment on the Muscle Shoals hydroelectric power project in Alabama.

Mr. Seaman's remains are at the J. B. Draper & Co. mortuary. It is expected an inquest will be held, arrangements for which are pending. Mr. Seaman's home was in Los Angeles.

Pastor Home After Staying Six Weeks On His Ohio Farm

The Rev. Lester Hostetler, pastor of the First Mennonite church, returned Wednesday from his former home, Sugar Creek, Ohio, where he spent the past six weeks harvesting the peach and apple crop on his orchard, which is known in the Sugar Creek district in the rolling green hills of eastern Ohio, as Upland orchards, a name selected by Mr. Hostetler.

The pastor will occupy the pulpit at his church Sunday.

Decision on Power Line Injunction To Be Announced Soon

Decision is expected soon on the question: "Can the Los Angeles bureau of power and light build its line through the foothills?"

All facts concerning the matter have been laid before Los Angeles Superior Court Judge J. A. Smith in an injunction hearing. The injunction is sought by cities along the foothills.

The last hearing on the matter was Wednesday afternoon. Judge Smith has not indicated as to when he will announce his decision.

WPA Projects Here Costing $45,083 Approved and Work To Start When Money Comes

Upland projects estimated to cost $45,083 have been approved by the Works Progress administration since September 1, and actual work will be ordered when federal warrants are issued, District Director Ralph B. Smith said today.

Thirty-three projects in the county have been approved by the WPA. Money to employ workers and to share in other expenses of the projects is expected from Washington, D. C., before the end of next week.

The local projects provide for improvement of school grounds at four locations, costing $14,176; further beautification and trimming of trees, costing $16,408, and improvement of San Antonio park, with the placing of stone borders; walks and grading of 15 miles of parkway at a cost of $12,499.

Of the $45,083 sum, all of it will be supplied by the federal government except $2,605 which is to be paid by the Upland school district as its share of the cost of improving the school grounds.

Among the Ontario projects are those for finishing the Liberal Arts building, completion of the Home Economics building and improvement of the campus at Chaffey.

MANLEY HONORED BY CITY MANAGERS

Upland Officer Chosen Secretary of State Group At Convention

Richard G. Manley was elected secretary of the California City Managers association in the annual convtneion held in San Francisco this week in connection with the convention of the League of Municipalities. Chosen president of the group was Holls Thompson, cty manager of Berkeley.

At the San Francisco convention were also Councilmen P. H. McQuillen and Fred E. Draper, the three men returnng to Upland this morning after leaving here Sunday night.

The Upland officers looked upon the convention as very profitable due to the closer acquaintanceship they gained with state officers due to the timely discussions on municipal problems and due to the reports given on activities of the league.

The convention was divided into sections for councilmen, managers, clerks, attorneys and for other officers, with special problems discussed in each group.

Cecil Eshelman and Harold Musser spent Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday on a trip to the exposition at San Diego, and on a deep sea fishing trip out of San Diego in Mexican waters.

Brothers Meet In Connecticut First Time In 50 Years

From W. S. Avery, proprietor of the Upland Inn, comes a copy of the Hartford, Conn., Courant containing a picture of Mr. Avery and his two brothers—Walter A. Sadd, retired banker of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Elmer A. Sadd of Detroit, Mich., whose job is to promote conventions for that city.

The three brothers grew up in the Wapping section of South Windsor, Conn., followed different trails as they went out into the world and met in Hartford last Friday for the first time in 50 years and that evening met with former playmates in the South Windsor community, not far from Hartford. The brothers were also guests at various functions arranged in their honor.

Speaking of the reunion of the three brothers, the Courant says:

"Friday evening they were guests at a party arranged for them at the home of G. Allen Collins in Wapping. About 40 friends, some from South Windsor, others from Hartford, Manchester and more distant points, were gathered there.

"It was in effect a reunion of the Old North School crowd, the boys and girls who attended that district school in Wapping, now abandoned.

"Refreshments of ice cream, cookies and punch were served, but for the most part the evening was one of reminiscence, laughter at the recollections of old frolics, a touch of sadness at the recollection of old friends no longer living."

PAROLE BOARD IS DEFENDED IN TALK BY ASSEMBLY HEAD

Ted Craig, Speaker of California's Lower House, Tells of Conditions

SPEAKER FOR LIONS CLUB

Schools, Prisons, Other State Institutions Require Huge Sum

California's parole board was defended and an explanation of the huge expenditure by the state was given in an address by Ted Craig, speaker of the California assembly, at the meeting of the Upland Lions club at the Red Hill Country club house yesterday noon.

He also cited that government is becoming further and further away from the people, with the city passing on obligations to the county and the county passing on what it can to the state and the "state trying to get as much as possible out of the federal government." He strongly protested the efforts of those who would tax out of existence the corporations. He criticised the tendency to put the government in business.

Concerning the parole board, Mr. Craig pointed out that 2200 persons who have served time in one of the prisons are on parole.

"Just as soon as one paroled man goes wrong, the whole system is declared wrong," he declared in commending the parole board for permitting hundreds of persons to try to start over.

The extreme crowded conditions in the prisons, he pointed out, was one of the reasons for granting paroles quite freely.

Maintenance of schools, the state prisons and other state institutions require huge sums to make up the total expenditure, according to Mr. Craig, who resides at Brea.

"It costs a lot to run the state because the state is obligated to pay a lot", the speaker said and then discussed various phases of the expense items.

It costs $80,000,000 every year to pay the state's share in the educational program, he said. In the state universities and teachers' colleges are 22,000 students, according to Mr. Craig, who also said that the state paid toward the maintenance of junior colleges and elementary and high schools on the basis of average daily attendance. In general he commended the educational system and said that school boards in the outlying districts are frequently more economical than the boards in the metropolitan areas.

In the state are six institutions to care for the "mentally sick", with the number increasing every month, the speaker said and offered the query as to "when is this condition going to stop?" These institutions cost between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000 annually, he said.

He also pointed out that the state prisons cost a huge sum. Among other fixed charges is one annually for payment of principal and interest of $13,000,000 on past bond issues, he said.

Floyde L. Atwood was program chairman. Clair E. Kirk was a guest at the meeting. President Clyde DuVall was in charge of the meeting.

Traffic Deaths in County Total 83

Number of persons killed in the county in traffic accidents during the year reached 83 yesterday with three persons dying as the result of accidents at Rialto and Barstow. The three were pedestrians and were believed to be transients enroute from the east to Los Angeles.

Mrs. Laura Bowen, Ontario, was critically injured in a crash at Pomona yesterday. She is at the Pomona Valley hospital.

Traffic Accident Record Here Better

Upland's traffic record for September is the best in many months, it was pointed out today by local police. Only eight accidents have been reported within the city so far this month

The last crash occurred on Sept. 11, according to the traffic record.

EDDIE KIRK GETS OFFER TO APPEAR ON N. B. C. CHAIN

Local Yodeler To Be Starred On Nation-Wide Radio Program Series

NOW SINGING ON COAST

Youth Wins In Several Song Contests Held in Los Angeles

Eddie Kirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kirk of Sixth avenue, who has become well known in Upland as a guitar and yodeling expert since coming here a year ago, has received an offer that will place him in the ranks of the National Broadcasting Co. stars, it was learned today.

The 16-year-old youth, who has been singing over KMTR for the past few weeks, has been selected by officials of the National Fiddlers association, to accompany them on a tour to New York, where he is to be featured over NBC in nation-wide broadcasts.

The Fiddlers association has recently put on several radio jamboree contests in Long Beach, with the final contest being held last Sunday in the Shrine auditorium in Los Angeles. Young Kirk participated in the contest and later was selected by the officials as the best yodeler. They at once offered him the contract to sing on NBC at a very flattering salary, he being the only one selected on the Pacific coast.

Eddie is now with his sponsors in San Francisco, where he will be featured in a series of nation-wide broadcasts. He will return to Los Angeles before leaving for New York.

Eddie is now the proud owner of a championship cup presented by the National Fiddlers association and also a first prize cup won last week in a contest held in the Orpheum theatre in Los Angeles. These cups will be placed on exhibit at the Upland News office.

Mutual Handling of Domestic Jobs Basis For Happy Wedded Life, Dr. Popenoe Declares

In the common understanding of the problems, work and responsibilities expected of each other lies the basis for successful marriages, Dr. Paul Popenoe, widely known leader in the field of family relations, said in addressing a large audience in Chaffey junior college auditorium yesterday afternoon. His address was the second in the weekly afternoon series being sponsored by the Ontario P.-T. A. council.

There should be two heads of each family, the husband and wife sharing in the handling of mutual problems, he declared.

Frequent causes for marital troubles are questions of family finances, rearing of children, use of leisure time in the evenings and failure of one of a couple to accept the proper share of the family responsibilities, Dr. Popenoe said, in an instructive and entertainly presented address.

"After listening to the story of one young wife about all her troubles I said 'you haven't tried to make your marriage a success it seems to me'," the lecturer said. "And then she replied, 'I don't believe I should try, if a happy marriage doesn't come natural, I don't see what can be done about it'."

At this point, Dr. Poponoe said that marriage success depends upon one's own efforts just as efforts bring success in any other undertaking. He facetiously cautioned new bridegrooms, however, not to undertake the task of washing all the dishes and cleaning the house just to help their brides unless they expected to always do that.

"It's easy to spoil them and don't start what you can't finish," he continued. "For when you begin to relax on your work about the house, your wife will begin to wonder what's happened."

While he didn't make any major point of education for marriage, Dr. Poponoe said that more than 90 per cent of people get married and "why shouldn't they be given instruction in schools for this job when they are given instruction for many jobs they will never undertake."

It was in regard to the rearing of children that he brought up the matter of education. Mothers read about child rearing, attend meetings where the problem is discussed and are generally more able to handle their offspring in a modern way, the speaker said, in contrasting the mother's training with the father's experience.

"The father doesn't have the inclination or the time to study on this problem, but he accepts himself as a shining example of what good training produced and believes that the way he was reared is good enough for his children," the speaker said, as chuckles came from the audience that filled the auditorium.

When a day's work is done a change for the husband is to stay at home and a change for the wife is to go some place and over the proper use of the evening time lies a big problem, the lecturer said.

A sane consideration from a practical viewpoint will happily settle all problems arising between couples, the speaker said, in emphasizing that marriage is a "50-50" deal.

The speaker for Thursday, Oct. 3, will be John A. Sexson, superintendent of Pasadena schools and highly recommended as a speaker.

TWO NAMED FOR G.O.P. MEETING

Harold Zenz and Dave Vasbinder Among Those Asked To Be In Oakland

Two Uplanders, Harold Zenz and Dave L. Vasbinder, were appointed last night as the local Republican delegates to attend a western conference of Republicans at Oakland Oct. 4, 5 and 6. Their apointment came at a meeting of the county Republican central committee. The principal speaker at the meeting, held in San Bernardino, was Grant Holcomb, chairman of the committee.

Vernon R. Pittenger was named as the Ontario representative at the Oakland conference.

Mr. Holcomb declared that the big issue in the presidential election next year will be whether America will follow Socialistic trends or will stand by the constitution.

"There wasn't a time during the past state legislative sessions when the Democrats would not have turned California into a Socialistic state if they had been given an opportunity," Mr. Holcomb said.

Assemblyman Corwin, who represented the Redlands district, supported Mr. Holcomb's views in his declaration, "There were more Socialistic tendencies in this session of the legislature than you could shake a stick at."

Many Attractions, Lots of Fish Make Long Trip Pleasing

Mr. and Mrs. Harlow S. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Hanson are back in Upland today after a motor trip of nearly three weeks. They greatly enjoyed it because they were successful as fishermen, because they saw many beautiful sights and because the trip as a whole was very pleasing and restful.

The most northerly point on the trip was 150 miles north of Victoria, B. C., on Vancouver island. They went there because fishing was good.

Throughout the trip they leisurely traveled and enjoyed the natural beauty of California, Oregon and Washington.

Mr. Wilson commented on business conditions on the basis of what he observed.

"In some of the cities up north it appeared as though there never had been any depression," he said. "There was apparently a lot going on with business being very good."

P.-T. A. PRESIDENCY IS RELINQUISHED BY MRS. H. ANDERSON

President of Ontario Council Presents Resignation At Meeting

MRS. J. L. DUNLAP NAMED

Mrs. Anderson's Outstanding Accomplishments in Office Are Related

After serving for approximately a year and a half with remarkable success, Mrs. Hjalmar Anderson, 672 East Arrow highway, resigned as president of the Ontario council, Parent-Teacher association, at the initial autumn meeting of the council held Wednesday at the Mountain View school on South Archibald avenue.

Mrs. Anderson, who is president of the Upland board of education, found she was unable to continue with her public and home duties and give sufficient time to council work. Her resignation was accepted with much regret and the council proceeded to elevate Mrs. J. L. Dunlap of Chino, first vice-president, to the presidency to succeed Mrs. Anderson. Mrs. Hugo Larson of Ontario was elected first vice-president.

Splendid accomplishments were recorded during Mrs. Anderson's regime, the council experiencing an increase in membership and activities.

One of Mrs. Anderson's outstanding projects was securing incorporation of the subject of safety in the regular school course.

Material gathered by Mrs. Anderson and council members was submitted to Dr. Peter Spencer, head of the department of education in Pomona college, who placed the data before his elementary seminar and with the assistance of his students worked out a plan of study for the school, this instruction in safety to be correlated with the regular work. The project has received hearty support from the state safety chairman of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers and is expected to become state wide.

The meeting Wednesday was a school of instruction and Mrs. W. A. Patton of San Bernardino, Fifth district president, discussed the duties of association presidents.

Others speaking were Mrs. Edward Barber, district program chairman; Mrs. C. L., Cochran of Ontario, district membership chairman; Mrs. L. M. Corn of Ontario, council publicity chairman; Mrs. Hugo Larson, chairman of school education, and Mrs. John Paschke, radio chairman.

Mrs. Patton presented certificates to those who completed the recent correspondence course in leadership training, including Mrs. Edgar Wight, Mrs. Richard Rubige, Mrs. M. L. Schultz and Mrs. Loren Ratekin.

Mrs. Anderson told of the Fifth district conference to be held in Ontario at the Central school in January.

During the noon recess the Mountain View P.-T. A. served lunch.

The next council meeting will be held in Chino on Wednesday, Oct. 23.

Upland Backfield on Chaffey Sophomore Team; Eleven Loses

With a backfield of Upland players, Chaffey sophomore football team lost a 6 to 0 football game at the California junior republic, Chino, yesterday afternoon. A blocked punt enabled the winners to score a touchdown.

Three times the Chaffey team was within a foot of a touchdown, but the heavier Chino eleven held off a score. The backfield players, all formerly at the Upland junior high school, were Landon Bailey, quarterback; Gene Fetrow, right halfback; Kobi Shoki, left halfback, and Lysle Hays, fullback. Bailey and Fetrow attended Chaffey as freshmen last year, with Hays and Shoji being on the local junior high team last year.

Others on the Chaffey team were Walker, center; Shiro and McGinnis, guards; James Adams and Jim Latimer, tackles, and Corn and Holbrook, ends.

Yesterday's game was the first for the "Tigerlets" and on the basis of the team's showing one of the best records is expected of this year's group.

"California—The Garden of Eden"

Those envious Easterners—they just can't help showing it. An Upland resident having relatives in the east received from one of them a neat little home-made folder having as a title on the front page the above heading—with a question mark after it. On the inside pages was a clipping of a news dispatch headed "Brush Fire Routes Nudists From Retreat—And How They Did Wish Clothes Were Near." Of course the story was about the recent fire in the mountains above this city.

Said the news story: "Fifty nudists, men and women, leaped frantically for cover behind trees and billboards today as a brush fire routed them from secluded Stoddard's canyon. 'There goes Eve,' shouted a Civilian Conservation corps worker as a young woman hastily retreated before flying embers to the shelter of a sympathetic woman motorist's car on a nearby highway. 'Here comes Adam,' yelled another, as a spindly-legged elderly man leaped from behind a tree, impelled by a stinging spark'."

The dispatch was dated at Ontario—which only goes to prove that we folks in California have a sense of humor—even as do those in the east. But it is great to have an easterner even intimate that California is possibly the "Garden of Eden"—and especially this particular spot in California. We admit that this is one of the very few places in the whole world where Mother Eve and Father Adam could live comfortably in their "birthday clothes"—that is, if they were not disturbed by Peeping Toms. Even the fig leaves are here—and these would cover about as much of the anatomy of the mermaids who bask on the sands of the Pacific in this salubrious climate as does the modern bathing suit.

Here it is different than the east. A coat of tan is really all one needs to wear the year round—that is, as far as comfort is concerned. No bleak, cold, icy, wintry blasts coming down from the North Pole, where they say Santa Claus lives. Instead of Christmas gifts of ice and snow the good old saint is more considerate of this part of the world—he brings sunshine and balmy breezes, so that it can be truthfully said this is where summer spends the winter.

And underneath all this kidding and jealousy on the part of the folks in the middle west and east it is their hope that some day they may come to California to live. Once they make a trip to this fair clime and beautiful wonderland—especially if that trip be in the winter—it is the inevitable result that the desire for a home in sunny California is created. And they never get over it. We know—here we are a sample of that result.

The experience of the nudists in the recent fire was commented upon pretty generally by the press throughout the country—and W. C. Scheu of this city, who is in Tampa, Fla., sends us one along the customary humorous vein.

Max Baer got what most of the people of the country anticipated would be his fate when he met chocolate colored Joe Louis in the fight Tuesday evening in New York. Baer was not the same man he was in his fights of several years ago. Shortly after gaining the world's championship as heavyweight boxer he began a career of night life and fast living that could do nothing but weaken his strong body and lessen his stamina—and his poor showing of Tuesday amply demonstrated the fact that once this is done it is impossible for a man to regain his former fitness. Intensive training and proper diet for six weeks did not do it—and in all probability six years of such training could not accomplish the desired result. The colored boy is said to live a clean life and is never out of condition. The fate of Max Baer should be sufficient warning to keep Louis that way. Undoubtedly he will be the world's next champion just as soon as he has a chance at Braddock. While we are not an admirer of Max Baer, the fellow stood up and took his beating as long as he could stand it. Had his physical condition been different the result of the fight may also have been different.

To My Mother

The Queen of the Out-of-Doors

Here is to one who loves the mountains,
Who loves the desert,
Who loves the sea,
Wherever the long white trails may lead,
Wherever the freedom of souls may be.
The out-of-doors is her mansion fair,
And wild flowers twine in her sunny hair.

In her mind she has roamed the world,
And told her neighbors of what she has found
While sailing on a phantom ship,
Splashed with the ocean's lulling sound.

Many a time has she brought back,
Sundry tales from the parching track,
The deep sand track of the desert wide,
That shifts along like the ocean tide.

Sometimes though when she stays at home,
She tells of the pictures of peace and rest,
The loving wife, the devoted man,
The sweet little babes asleep in the nest.

But first of all she has followed the clouds,
And heard the wild wind's plaintive cry,
Has told her very soul of souls,
The whispering notes that were floating by.
And many a wonderous tale has told,
As she dipped her pen in the pot of gold.

Here is to one who loves the mountains,
Who loves the desert,
Who loves the sea,
Wherever the long white trails may lead,
Wherever the freedom of souls may be.
The Out-of-doors is her mansion fair,
With wild flowers ever in her hair.

GALLEON OF DREAMS

"Poetry has been defined as the harmonious union of man with nature."—Carlyle.

Bill Rogers

I didn't see Death, and there wasn't a pain
When the signal came from the sky
That sent the ship back to the earth
With Riley Post and I.

Pshaw folks, now don't be feelin' sad—
I had to go soon, you know,
And I couldn't have chosen a quicker way,
And I sure was ready to go.

All that I know, we was sailin' along
Unravelin' some little joke
And would you believe it, Heaven appeared
And the voice of the good Lord spoke.

How do I like it up here? I dunno,
I've never once thought of that,
I'm just Bill Rogers trampin' all over
God's Heaven. Did you find my hat?

Little Roads

Oh little quiet country roads,
Dappled with shade and sun,
Bordered with sunflower's rusty gold,
Where the sweet wild rose briers run,
Scented with mint and thistle bloom,
For the thirsty bumblebee,
Oh little country road you snare,
The heart and feet of me.

You lead to door yards filled with bloom,
Of sweet old fashioned flowers,
Where time goes by on quiet feet,
Nor counts the hurrying hours,
You lead to simple friendly folks,
Whose hearts are warm and true,
Oh little dusty country road,
Please let me follow you.

Check On Expenditures Is Vital, Collins Declares

SPENDING OF BIG SUMS MUST CEASE

Congressman Tells of Duties Of Voters at Meeting At Red Hill

That a nation cannot long endure with expenditures continuously exceeding income, was the declaration made by Sam L. Collins of Fullerton, congressman from the Nineteenth congressional district, when he spoke at the meeting of the Ontario Business Men's association held Tuesday evening at Red Hill Country club.

Disclaiming any intention to chiticise any individual, Mr. Collins asserted he did strongly criticise a policy of proclaiming an economy program, yet spending in ever increasing volume.

Mr. Collins had been asked to speak on the activities of congress, but because he has not yet received his files from Washington, he did not attempt to give detailed statistics concerning legislation approved or rejected by congress, but rather discussed general conditions.

Stating he is opposed to the disproportionate increase in governmental expenditures as compared with the temporary benefits secured, Mr. Collins declared that in his opinion the present spending of vast sums through the various departments is just as fundamentally wrong as was the destruction of hogs and corn and cotton in the earlier days of e administration.

During the days of the blue eagle's greatest activity there were 4,500 persons employed in NRA, the speaker said, and today, long after its dissolution, there are still 3,000 employes working on reports, surveys, etc. This he mentioned as only one very small item of needless expenditures being made by the numerous bureaus and departments.

If the excessive spending is not checked, he declared, the day of reckoning must come, when either the taxpayers will be crushed under the load of debt, or the burden will be passed on to their children, and their children's children.

Admitting he offered no particular remedy for the country's dilemma, the congressman made an earnest plea to the people to elect to office men who are sincere in their desires and also capable of finding a practical way of reducing expenditures; the alternative, he declared, will be national bankruptcy.

Mr. Collins, as member of the military affairs committee, strongly advocated a greatly increased air force as the nation's chief defense and declared the air department is becoming less efficient because of the increasing obsolence of the air craft. The air force, he said, is being hampered by the powerful influence of the army and navy.

Mr. Collins closed his address with an account, mostly humorous, of his personal experiences in Washington.

An excellent chicken dinner was served to 106 guests and during the hour music was provided by the Ontario Kiwanis orchestra led by Hobart Alter, former state assemblyman.

Francis J. Dysart, business manager for Ostran's and president of the Business Men's association, which includes a number of Upland business men, conducted a brief session during which J. H. Siegrist, Robert T. Schaefer, Richard Bumstead and Thomas Batchelor were elected directors. The hold-over directors are Mr. Dysart, Clem V. Svoboda, Harvey Matthews, Chester Fisk and Dr. A. A. Aita.

F. H. Wallihan, secretary of the association, presented his annual report.

To the delight of the audience, Miss Lois LeBaron Avery, of Chaffey, was called upon by Robert Schaefer, program chairman, to present the speaker. Miss Avery was Mr. Collins' English teacher in Chaffey and from her he had his first lessons in public speaking. In her humorous introduction, she claimed him as a "home boy", and a Chaffey graduate. Miss Avery also presented Mrs. Collins, formerly Miss Marjorie Reynolds of Upland.

Committee in charge of the meeting was Robert T. Schaefer, Ernest T. Stone, J. H. Siegrist, Bert C. Nichols and Alan Couch.

"Sudden Death" Is Read by Speeders In Justice Court

Speeders appearing in Judge Fred H. Jacob's justice court are given an opportunity to read the article "Sudden Death", which dramatically describes the likely results of fast driving.

"When a man is cited to court for speeding, I delay him and hand him this article and suggest that he read it while waiting," the judge explained. "They become interested and apparently read the article carefully. When I believe he is through reading it, I call his case and then discuss his charge of speeding."

Judge Jacobs has been following this practice for several weeks, soon after the appearance of the article in a national magazine.

Federation Chairman Advocates Study Of Citizenship

That "American Citizenship" is not a subject to be dragged out and dusted off for presentation once a year, but includes numerous subdivisions that provide profitable all-year-'round study, is the contention of Mrs. Homer DeWitt Rose of Sonora, state chairman of American Citizenship for the California Federation of Women's clubs.

"To be a good American, one must know and appreciate America", says Mrs. Rose, continuing with: "We need to become better citizens; Americans who are loyal to thir country. Our own people must exhibit good citizenship or we haven't anything to which foreigners may look with respect".

In discussing the various ways in which good citizenship may be developed, Mrs. Rose suggests, in addition to a study of the Constitution of the United States, a review of early American history, the first continental Congress, the seal—its symbolical meanings, the making of the Declaration of Independence, a study of the great men of those days, memorial days and their history, the story of the flag and its meaning and the story of our national hymn.

Numerous other subjects for study mentioned in Mrs. Rose's most complete outline for clubs to follow are: Rules, ordinances and laws; courts, civil, state, supreme, international; citizenship, service and the oath of allegiance, needs and forms of government; the citizen, hsi rights and duties, acquisition of citizenship and naturalization; political parties and elections, ballots, initiative, referendum and recall; government and rules of congress, powers and duties of the president, federal and state departments, the army and navy, and the interstate commerce commission.

Wiener Roast Enjoyed At Home of Mrs. Johnston

As a pleasant departure from the usual luncheon meeting, members of te Merry-Go-'Round club planned a wiener roast and invited their husbands to join them, the party being held in the rear court at the home of Mrs. Etta Johnston on West Eighth street, she and Mrs. Hiram Waterman assisting the hostess, Mrs. W. F. Goodban.

A glowing fire in the large outdoor fireplace tempered the slight tinge of autumn in the air and the garden became a comfortable and very delightful place for the wiener roast and outdoor supper, which was served at 5 o'clock. Chaffey Wives Enjoy Fascinating Story Of Summer Trip

Reminiscent of the vacation days just closed, the story of a most interesting trip to Yosemite and to various places in Oregon was told by Mrs. Ernest Payne to members of the Chaffey Wives club when they gatheed at the home of Ms. Arthur C. Hargrave, 229 Rosewood court in Ontario, for their initial meeting of the new club year.

Mrs. Payne gave a description of Yosemite valley that made that famous beauty spot seem new even to those who have seen it several times.

Being so fortunate as to have an inquisitive, exploring mind, Mrs. Payne is a successful traveler and on her trip this summer she left the open highways and followed the by-way into fascinating places the usual tourists seldom see; thus her fellow Chaffey Wives were privileged to enjoy by proxy many out-of-the-way bits of scenic beauty and interesting places.

The meeting opened with a charmingly served luncheon and later Mrs. Hargrave, who is the club's president, held a brief business session, with Mrs. Payne's travelogue following.

The hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Hargrave, Mrs. Ole Snyder, Mrs. Harry Alter, and Mrs. Archie L. Moore, all officers of the club, and 33 members were present.

Club Women Hear Mrs. Thos. G. Winter On Motion Pictures

The first board meeting of the San Bernardino County Federation of Women's clubs held Wednesday in Fontana, may well have been termed a "motion picture meeting", since that was the featured topic ably presented by the distinguished guest speaker, Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, director of public relations for the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

The meeting, at which Mrs. George S. Foster, federation president, presided, was attended by 134 club women, with 20 clubs in county being represented.

After greetings and response by the hostess club president, Mrs. L. I. Jecker, and the county vice-president, Mrs. S. H. Gardner of Ontario, and the other opening formalities, Mrs. Foster spoke briefly, expressing appreciation of the work being done by the county chairmen and outlining her plans for the coming year, during which the theme of the federation is to be "Hold Fast the Faith".

Mrs. Foster also presented the vice-president-at-large, Mrs. R. M. Wilson of Victorville; Mrs. Geo. H. Bunnell, parliamentarian, and Mrs. H. J. Wilder, music chairman.

The new federation year books were distributed and met with hearty approval.

In a brief address Mrs. Carlos Lovely, Southern district motion picture chairman, told something of the work of the preview committees maintained by various organizations, and Mrs. S. P. Smith of Ontario spoke of the Federation News.

An exceptionally interesting forum was conducted by Mrs. W. F. Goodban of Upland, county chairman of American citizenship, and Mrs. Frederick Schwartz of Sierra Madre, Southern district chairman of arts and crafts, told of many fascinating things that may be made by hand, and she exhibited numerous articles of her own handwork.

Following the luncheon hour the hostess club presented a brief musical program and the afternoon was given over to Mrs. Winter's address, which was both informative and inspiring.

During the past five years, she said, there has been decided progress in the movement to secure better pictures, and more good pictures will be made and more objectional features will be eliminated as rapidly as massed public opinion demands those changes.

The work done by the various church, school and club organizations in educating the public to desire better pictures is credited by Mrs. Winter with having brought about this greatly desired change.

She declared that it is of great importance that the people hold to the high standards of better pictures, and she named newspaper, motion pictures and radio as the three greatest influences of the time.

At the conclusion of the address the Fontana club women presented Mrs. Winter with a large basket of fine assorted fruits, all beautifully wrapped in cellophane.

BEN H. STROTHER PASSES SUDDENLY

Resident of Upland District For Many Years Called Early Wednesday

Passing into his last rest as he sat talking with his wife, Ben Herbert Strother died suddenly at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning at his home in San Antonio canyon, his death, although a blessing in its ease and lack of pain, being a great shock to his family.

Mr. Strother, who was 81 years old, was slightly ill last Friday. However, he seemingly had fully recovered Monday and came down town during the day. Wednesday morning he had insisted on aiding Mrs. Strother with her household work as she was preparing for guests, an event in which he was much interested. About 9 o'clock he sat down, but said nothing of feeling badly and when he failed to reply to some comment made by his wife, she found he had passed away, his last moments being happy and peaceful, a beautiful memory for his loved ones.

A native of Trimble county, Ky., Mr. Strother had lived in California for 20 years and in San Antonio canyon for 17 years. He was a retired real estate operator.

Besides his wife, Mr. Strother leaves a daughter, Mrs. Alfred R. Kipp of San Antonio Heights, well known in Woman's club circles in Southern California. Other relatives are two granddaughters, Mrs. Virginia Kipp Camelon of Evanston, Ill., and Mrs. Marjorie Kipp Jacoby of Stockton; also two grandsons, David James Kipp and Strother Tallman Kipp of San Antonio Heights; a sister, Mrs. W. E. Arnold of Winchester, Ky., and a brother, Jeremiah P. Strother of Williamstown, Ky.

Mr. Strother was a member of the First Methodist church in Ontario and the pastor, the Rev. Arthur Schultz, conducted the funeral service at 2:30 this afternoon in the Draper funeral chapel in Ontario, with cremation of the body following.

Review of Books At Local Library

From Mrs. F. H. Manker, librarian of the Upland public library, comes this enticing description of a book and two magazine articles: "What's the Matter With Father?"

Away back so far that some people would like to forget, the song "What's the Matter With Father? He's all right!" was quite popular and father was pigeonholed just like that! (The rest of the song has no bearing on the case).

At that time other popular songs —not jazz—were sung. "Tell Me Pretty Maiden," "Where Did You Get That Hat," and "Sweet Adeline" answered, "The Bowery," "Casey Jones" said "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now" "In the Good Old Summer Time." Remember?

"Father" had his place as a good provider, working from sun up to sun down for one good dollar and twenty-five cents beside, often walking two or three miles to work. "Father" didn't have much time to play with the children, nor did he have an auto to take 'em riding in, nor were there picture shows to see, and a lot of other things that the present-day child thinks he needs to make him happy.

Clarence Day in his recent book "A Day With Father," had one of those old-fashioned fathers, who boomed commands all over the place. And he was always right! Mother, however, knew how to get around him and, what is more, did. Very amusing, entertaining and instructive.

And now two magazine articles, very recent, bring up the question again. "Shall We Abolish Fathers" and from another point of view "Fathers Should Be Seen and Heard." Is "Father" a good example for the children. If he is abolished will "Mother" do better? Fathers may have more uses than just serving as bank balances, the first article says.

The second article asks "What do most fathers get out of parenthood?" Most always the privilege of seeing "Mother" bring up the little darlings, and "Father" gradually slipping into the background until the home is of the children, by the children and for the children, and "Father" hasn't much of a place in it, nor has "Mother" really much force in that type of a home.

Really, both articles are worth reading. In fact, the writer of "Fathers Should Be Seen and Heard" admits right at the beginning "I have a distinct feeling, in what might be called my psychic sense, that somebody is going to get terribly wrathy about this article. Just plain, old-fashioned mad!"

Fathers and mothers are both cordially invited to come to the library and sit in our easy chairs (we have two) and read the articles before they become old—the magazines, we mean!

John Palmer was visiting his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Spencer, in Los Angeles Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Hanson and Mr. and Mrs. Harlow S. Wilson returned last evening from a pleasant motor trip up the coast, going as far as Victoria, British Columbia. The weather was fine and the forests in their autumn colors were beautiful, adding to the pleasure of the leisurely trip.

Bridegroom: "I thee endow with all my worldly goods."
Her Father: "There goes his bicycle."

Mrs. Wm. Morley Is Seriously Injured In Fall in House

As the result of a fall sustained last Saturday, Mrs. William Morley is confined to her home on Eighth avenue with a painful, and perhaps serious injury to her neck.

The accident occurred in her home when Mrs. Morley tripped in some manner and fell. In turning to avoid striking a dresser, she fell head first, her weight being thrown upon her shoulders and neck. The attending physician does not believe any of the vertebrae was broken, but the swelling has been too severe for a thorough examination.

Mrs. Morley is confined to her bed and can be moved only with the greatest care. For several days she suffered considerable pain, but is now resting easier and the discoloration of the severe bruises is lessening.

Streamlining Mania

Beverly Hills Citizen: Because streamlines happen to be the newest innovation. manufacturers are re-designing everything from electric irons to beer bottles, overlooking entirely the functional purpose of streamlining. In automobiles, trains and airplanes it serves an end. But in pretzel-holders and kitchen utensils streamlining is hokum. Manufacturers might better strive for greater simplicity, utility and beauty in their products.

It's the Upkeep

Westwood Hills News: According to the statisticians, childless homes in this country number 7,447,328. Of homes with but one child there are 5,254,863. Two children are to be found in each of 4,246,459 homes and three in 2,650,730 homes. while the number of families containing four children or more is 3,753,-610. Negro couples without children outnumber white couples with out children, but even at that the stork seems to favor the poor over the rich, both in this country and abroad.

In China and India the humblest homes can boast more frequent visits from the bird than the proudest and haughtiest. It it rare that the stork fails to visit a Chinese home twice in three years, and keeps on calling at such intervals until he finds the yard full of young folks and the old ones too deaf to hear the flapping of the wings. This means that the old fellow is undemocratic. It believes in class favoritism. Also it is disposed to continue liberal toward those to whom it has shown the most liberality. But, working as it does without wages and furnishing its own feathers, it can not be said to be always welcome. Always in the long run a baby costs more than an automobile.

PILOT IN BOOST FOR FLYING HERE

New Chaffey Instructor Gives Up Job To Aid In Instruction

That this district is looked upon as an ideal center for aviation activities is seen in the declaration of John Webster, new assistant in the Chaffey aeronautics department.

"The department has unlimited possibilities for advancement and enlargement and it was for this reason I gave up a flying job to come here," Mr. Webster said. He is in charge of instruction in engines, propellers, instruments and controls. Next semester he will widen his course to include classes in meterology and navigation.

Efforts of various groups and the Chaffey board of education are centered in obtaining an aviation field for the district. Assurance has been given that the government will assume a large share of the cost in improving a field. Suggested site for the airport is on Sixteenth street east of Campus avenue.

Charles Turner is head of the aeronautics department. Fifty-five students have enrolled in the course, which is beginning its second year in the aeronautics building.

J. C. Landgraf Home From Visit of Five Months in Midwest

After an absence of five months, J. C. Landgraf of 708 Second avenue, returned Tuesday from a visit with his daughter and her family in Berlin, Wis.

Mr. Landgraf formerly lived in southern Wisconsin, but had never visited the northern part of the state and he was greatly interested in the iron mines and paper mills, these being practically the only industries of that section. The soil is not suitable for farming, but produces heavy forests.

The larger cities that have a skyline of smokestacks are all thriving industrial centers, Mr. Landgraf says, but the small towns and villages have little to support them.

For the first time in his life Mr. Landgraf participated in a vacation camping trip, motoring with his relatives and their neighbors to Upper Progression lake where they camped for a week. They were within a few miles of the fashionable resort, Litle Bohemia, where John Dillinger and his outlaw gang were once trapped by officers when they attempted to seize a huge payroll enroute to the bank. Dillinger escaped but one of his lieutenants was killed.

The greater part of the forests have been cut over and there is now a dense young second growth, but in one place the motorists drove through a stretch of virgin forest of magnificent trees.

Each morning during the camp Mr. Landgraf and his companions fished and in the afternoon they made long motor trips through the surrounding country, including points in northern Michigan, and Mr. Landgraf found the lake country very beautiful.

Class Program On Monday To Attract Junior Adult Group

Wide interest is being shown among the members of the "junior adult" department of the Methodist church in the dinner meeting and program in Fellowship hall on Monday night. Dr. Earl L. Wenger is president of the group, with Mrs. Lee Bigley and Mrs. Harold Hall handling details in arranging for the dinner and Miss Edith Pittenger in charge of the program.

The speaker will be Thomas G. Butler of the Braille Institute of America, Los Angeles. Calvin Hendricks, a blind singer, whose voice has been heard in regular radio programs, will appear in several vocal selections. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock.

Optometerist In 20-30 Club Talk

Dr. Ralph D. Ryan, local optometrist, told Upland 20-30 club members that it was the business of persons in his profession to provide "more efficient vision".

Modern day strain on eyes is more than was intended by nature for the eyes to stand, the speaker said, in pointing out that the continual close-range reading is a heavy strain on the eyes.

Vice President Rollin Lemon was in charge of the meeting, he presiding in the absence of President Lawrence Burwell.

Relief—and BISMAREX to you From Mac—and all His Trusty Crew. —Adv.

Grand Jury Starts Work; Mrs. Kipp Is Member From Upland

Work of the 1935 grand jury will begin next week. Mrs. A. R. Kipp is the Upland representative on the jury. R. S. Jones is a member from Etiwanda and E. L. Fuller of Ontario is the other West End representative.

The jury will begin its investigation into all county offices on Tuesday, with its report of the study to be prepared for the superior court. Walter G. Hentschke, Redlands, is foreman of the group.

Program Arranged For First Meeting Junior Hi. P.-T. A.

Two addresses that will be of interest to all parents are included in the program to be given during the first autumn meeting of the Junior High School Parent-Teacher association to be held in the school library Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 2, beginning at 3:15.

Mrs. D. R. Kilbourne, president, will preside and Mrs. Luther A. Hayden, program chairman, will present J. Loraine Loch, chief of police of Ontario, who will discuss the problems of safety for school children and, perhaps, the proposed finger-printing of all citizens.

The second speaker will be Dr. Ralph D. Ryan, optometrist, who will discuss the proper care of the eyes.

Vocal numbers will be contributed by Mrs. Louis Jenison.

Trucks Must Have Two Tail Lights

All trucks must have two tail lights and reflectors on the lights under terms of a recently enacted state law, Robert Stump, manager of Waterman's garage, said in calling this detail to the attention of local truck owners.

The new provision was added to the vehicle act as a further precaution against accidents.

Players to get the first call in the opening practice games for Chaffey football teams were announced today.

Today's clashes mark the real beginning of the grid season. Little "Ads" Sell Lots, Do Big Job For Small Cost

Results from classified advertising keep regular advertisers in The Upland News and bring new advertisers.

Every week advertisers tell of what they sold, of what they rented and of what other benefits they got from investing even as small a sum as 25 cents in a classified "ad."

J. L. Messenger of the Empire Realty & Mortgage Co., uses The News frequently to tell the public of good buys in property. He recently advertised eight lots. Part of them had been sold today and other prospects were interested in the remainder and he expressed confidence that all the property would be sold soon.

The News classifieds are effective and inexpensive.

ALTA LOMA-CUCAMONGA

Church Dinner Held

The community dinner sponsored by the Woman's Guild and held Tuesday evening in the basement of the Cucamonga Community church, drew an attendance of some 40 church members, and a very profitable evening was spent.

Early in the evening a contributed dish dinner was enjoyed, with Mrs. W. H. Powelson, president, and other members of the Guild in charge.

Later an informal session was held, during which the pastor, the Rev. S. J. Lindsay, spoke with enthusiasm of the church work and also outlined plans for activities during the year. The remainder of the evening was spent socially and the meeting proved to be an enjoyable get-together occasion.
